

GRAY MODELS AND TALENT, LLC

4/11/2025

To Whom It May Concern:

I, Tracy Gray, have been associated with Zach Dunlap for years. However, I knew from our first introduction that he would be someone I could trust. With refreshing honesty, he approached every task and responsibility presented to him.

He began as an actor on our roster. He promptly responds to everything the agency has needed from him, follows instructions to the smallest detail and brings personality to every moment of his performances.

Zach Dunlap then became my Talent Scout and Booker. In this capacity, he has been a self starter, finding avenues to meet new hopeful talent and submitting them online unfailingly.

Additionally, Zach has been a Guest Coach for our workshops and has been informative, encouraging and knowledgeable while handling all ages of actors with a kind approach.

Mr. Dunlap would be an asset to any production, company or institution that would be lucky enough to encounter him. When all is said and done, you may find a lifelong friend as well.

Sincerely,

Tracy Gray
